

Tales of Tucson: Two Herbets, Two Years, Tucson by Anthony Randall

Imagine this: You've been let out of your cage, given the keys to an exciting city and free rein in a land far from home. You're twenty-seven, not bad looking, in a band playing gigs all over town; the climate is roasting, the girls even hotter. You work for a gangster; his middle-aged Wife is after you and so is her multimillion-dollar heiress friend. You're paid in cash; you don't pay taxes; you don't pay for much at all. You drink, you party, you indulge yourself in a lackadaisical drug fuelled love spree ...

You'd have some tales to tell, right?

It's 1988; Tom Reynolds and Seamus Montgomery experience a turbulent extravaganza in and around this desert town; embroiled with mobsters, drugs, Reggae music, Champagne and armfuls of young ladies. They flout the law, get shot at, steal, blow things up and charm the pants off the locals. We see the depths of their depravity, the enormity of their fun and their souls bared. The girls, the Mother figures, their tyrannical boss, their bandmates, and the total lunatics they encounter along the way; in a hot and spicy, satirical melodrama, crammed with hilarity and pathos that will beg the question, why did you never do this yourself?

Biography: Doug Goddard and I started writing together back in 2002, Doug is Dyslexic and originally asked me to first decipher his scrawl, and then to correct his spelling in order to turn his story into a book. As an avid book reader I realized instantly the lack of content in his writing and proposed that we write together, his stories, my words, I believe the synergy works well, the analogy I have given it is of him giving me a pencil sketch and me turning it into an oil painting.

My back ground is music, I have been a song writer and singer for more than thirty years, yes I'm really that old, and I still pen the odd tune now and then, but I have found a new addiction in the form of novelist.

We have published two novels on Amazon in the English Sombrero series, 'Nothing to do but run' and 'The Little White Ball'. Book three 'Choice' is under construction, as is another title 'Tip of the Teaspoon' a vigilante thriller, and I have just released my debut novel 'Tales of Tucson', a spicy rock & Roll comedy set in 1988/89, based on fact and played out in the roasting Arizonian desert.

I have a short story titled 'Colin & Sandy' featured in the McMillan Charity anthology 'You're not alone', and I also contribute monthly to Mom's Favorite Reads, an online magazine packed with stories, articles and anecdotes from independent authors, and interviews with interesting public figures. You can read my continuing tales of Superfly (my function band) in there and the occasional short story.
