

Human Authors Not A.I. Authors

“Non-A.I. Author Content”: Book Marketing Global Network is owned, operated and the online content is produced by humans, not produced by A. I. Our Author Pages’ Content and Book Pages’ Content is given to us to use by our Independent, Creative, Human Authors (Not Produced by A. I. Authors). This is important as we move towards an “A. I. Universe”.

Readers should and will be able choose “Non A.I. Author Content” in the form of print books, eBooks, audio books, etc. Author content at Book Marketing Global Network is written by human authors: using their creativity, imagination, research and life experiences, etc. We have a deep respect for our authors. Their time, energy, and content will always be valued, as we strive to promote their books (giving them more time to write).

We recommend that going forward, authors place a “Non A.I. Author” statement on their book copyright page and possibly on the back cover, so readers will know that your content is produce by the human mind not A. I. That said, A. I. is a tool that can help authors edit their work. It is a great tool to help professional editors, publishers and cover designers, etc.
