Nikki Garcia Mystery Series by Kathryn Lane

Book One: Nikki Garcia Mystery Thriller Series.

Revenge when you least expect it...

Nikki Garcia, a private investigator, escapes to Spain with Eduardo, her fiancé, after a death threat on her last assignment. She puts the past behind her and turns the trip to Barcelona into their destination wedding.

A few days after their wedding, Nikki and the love of her life find themselves caught up in a terrorist attack at one of the city's major tourist attractions. As events unravel, Nikki discovers she is being stalked. Worse yet, she may have been the target of the deadly bombing.

Will she be able to locate the would-be assassin and outsmart him before it's too late?

PRAISE FOR REVENGE IN BARCELONA

Revenge in Barcelona won First Place at the Latino Books into Movies in the Latino-Themed TV Series category. It was a Finalist in the Suspense category at the Killer Nashville International Writers' Conference, the Eric Hoffer Book Awards, and the Next Generation Book Awards.

Revenge in Barcelona is quick paced, and the plot points are very strong. I enjoyed the fact that the key characters often find themselves in dangerous situations. There is a lot of suspense as Nikki works hard to find out who is targeting her and why. The novel is deftly plotted and masterfully written.

REVENGE IN BARCELONA

KATHRYN LANE

Revenge In Barcelona by Kathryn Lane.

Nikki Garcia, a private investigator, escapes to Spain with Eduardo, her fiancé, after a death threat on her last assignment. She puts the past behind her and turns the trip to Barcelona into her destination wedding.

A week later, Nikki and the love of her life find themselves caught up in a terrorist attack at one of the city's major tourist attractions. As events unravel, Nikki discovers she is being stalked. Worse yet, she may have been the target of the deadly bombing.

The newlyweds must navigate behind Spain's legal and law enforcement systems to uncover the sinister person threatening Nikki.

Weaving their way through Barcelona to get facts, Nikki and Eduardo further endanger their lives upon discovering a series of suspects, from flamenco dancers to foreign nationals. Will they be able to locate the would-be assassin and outsmart him before it's too late?

Awards: Revenge in Barcelona – Silver Winner, Mystery/Thriller, Reader Views, 2019-2020. Finalist in the 2020 Eric Hoffer Book Awards. Finalist in the Next Generation Book Awards for 2020. Also, recently announced as a finalist in the Latino Books into Movies Latino Themed TV Series 2021.

Awarded 5 Stars by Editor at Book Marketing Global Network: Exciting Mystery Crime Thriller!

I am positive that Author Kathryn Lane's career as an International Finance Executive and her extensive knowledge with Latin American culture, brought Nikki Garcia (main character) to life in this exciting mystery crime thriller.

Kathryn educates her readers in the regular and famous places in Barcelona, Arabic words and phrases, Romani words, and Spanish/Catalan words and phrases. Her extensive list of characters (in the beginning of the novel) will help you relate early as the story unfolds.

Once you begin, you will not put this well written, fast paced mystery down. Chapter one begins at the airport baggage claim in Barcelona Spain. From the start, Nikki Garcia draws you into her situation and her romantic relationship with her fiancé, Eduardo Duarte, who is a Colombian citizen and medical doctor.

Let me bring you into Nikki's secret investigation in Chapter 30. Nikki is at the Barcelona Majestic Hotel.

... "Attired in a housekeeper's uniform and long black wig, Nikki looked in the mirror to make certain she had not left telltale streaks in the makeup that darkened her face and arms. Slipping on a set of glasses with heavy dark frames and lightly shaded lenses Floyd had provided as part of her disguise, she found they sat heavy on the bridge of her nose. Yet they further transformed her appearance, so she kept them on. Her last step included tucking the special mobile phone Floyd had provided into her apron pocket.

...Eduardo, in his maintenance coverall, had been watching Nikki. He called Floyd. "We're ready."

... "All clear." Nikki could just make out Floyd's voice over the phone. "I'll meet you at the service elevator."

... "Roger, roger," Eduardo responded.

... “Roger?” Nikki repeated, chuckling as they walked toward the service elevator in the hallway where the emergency stairwell was also located.

... “Where did you learn that?”

... “Floyd. He said pilots and short-wave radio operators use it.”

... “Your accent makes it sound sexy,” Nikki said.

...They stepped out of the elevator into the plain service hallway, Nikki pushing the housekeeping cart. Floyd opened the door to the richly carpeted hall that guests used and checked for people. When he saw no one, he motioned them through. He would serve as lookout in the hallway near the door to the emergency stairs.

...Nikki used the passkey to open the door. With trepidation, she stepped into a dim foyer and pulled the cart in behind her. Without turning a light on, she continued into a living room. She stopped cold when she heard shrieking.

...An angry cat?”

...It is at this point that I will let you discover for yourself, what is making that awful sound and how much danger they might be in?
